

ABSTRACT

A convergent/divergent nozzle for a gas turbine engine has a throat portion of non-constant radius of curvature varying from an upstream high value to an intermediate low value and then to a downstream high value.

5